Introduction.

The Ecclesiastical Parish of Eastham.

Eastham is in the Diocese of Hereford. The north-west corner of Worcestershire seems to have come into this diocese as part of the Province of the Magasaetas, an Anglo-Saxon tribe, who drove out the Welsh in the seventh century. The greater part of Worcestershire lay in the Province of the Hwiccas, which formed the Worcester Diocese. In the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries this Parish appears to have included Hanley William, Hanley Child, and Orleton. In the "Valor Ecclesiasticus," 1535, Hanley William is entered as a separate Rectory, but in 1560 was united with Eastham. By Orders in Council dated 1909 and 1913, Hanley William, Hanley Child, and the Fulhams Estate, a detached portion of Eastham, were taken from Eastham and formed into an independent Parish.

In 1911 the population of Eastham was 264, Hanley William 130, Hanley Child 169, and Orleton 64; the acreage of Eastham 2,155, Hanley William 1,165, Hanley Child, including the Fulhams 1,191, and Orleton 546. In 1676 the population of Eastham consisted of 250 Conformists and 4 Nonconformists, and in 1801 the population was 384.

The Registers.

The following Registers have been printed :—

Eastham, including Hanley Child and Orleton—

Vol. I.	1571—1681.	Baptisms,	Marriages,	Burials.
	Part of the years 1576—1580 are missing.
Vol. II.	1681—1733.	Baptisms,	Marriages,	Burials.
Vol. III.	1733—1812.	do.	do.	do.
Hanley William :—
Vol. I.	1586—1752.	do.	do.	do.
Vol. II.	1754—1812.	do.	do.	do.

Hanley William entries 1586—1599 were copied into the Eastham Register.

The Registers are parchment, and the entries are written in Latin until 1615.

The following Registers have not been printed :—

Eastham,	1754—1812.	Banns and Marriages.
Hanley William,	1754—1812.	do.	do.

The Hanley Child Register Book of Banns and Marriages 1754—1812 is missing.

The marriages of this period were copied into the other Registers, though ten are omitted in the Eastham Register and seven in the Hanley William Register; these omitted marriages are printed.

Orleton marriages are solemnised at Eastham, though there were marriages at Orleton in 1643, 1778, 1780, and perhaps in 1760.

Eastham, Baptisms 1813—1905, 1905 to present day.
do. including Orleton. Marriages 1813—1837, 1838 to present day.
do. including Orleton and Hanley Child to 1900, Burials 1813 to present day.

Hanley William.	Baptisms, 1813 to present day.
do.	Marriages, 1813—1837, 1837—1894, 1895 to present day.

Hanley Child.	Baptisms, 1813 to present day.
do.	Marriages, 1813—1836, 1837 to present day.
do.	Burials, 1900 to present day.
Orleton.	Baptisms, 1813 to present day.

There are burial grounds at Eastham, Hanley William, and Hanley Child; that of Hanley Child was consecrated in 1900; before then Hanley Child buried at Eastham.

Eastham, Hanley William, Hanley Child, Banns Books 1824 to present day.

NOTES ON THE REGISTERS.

Several briefs are entered; other briefs appear in an Eastham Parish Book; one in the latter for the Relief of Prisoners in Algiers in 1670 raised £6 4s. 0d. in the Ecclesiastical Parish.

Cases of drowning occur. Until 1793, when Eastham Bridge was built, the nearest bridges were at Tenbury, four miles distant, and Stanford, five miles. The fords in use were Whitcombe's, Hunt's, and Medway.

Eastham R., 1723—4. Hop poolers (pullers or pickers) are mentioned where a "strange woman" is buried.

Eastham R., 1620. "Catturne, d. of Dorothy Treves was baptized at Hanley Child the first day of June, but borne at Rochford, and Mr. Tirer, curat there, was called before the Ordinary because hee did baptize the sayd child."

Eastham R., 1733. Mr. Whitcombe is probably in error when he asserts that Hanley William buried at Eastham before 1586.

Eastham R., 1735. The Parsonage built in this year is the present Rectory.

Eastham R., 1741. Two amusing medical entries occur.

Hanley William Book of Banns and Marriages, 1797. A Bridegroom is described as "late from Botany Bay."

Hanley William R., 1798. "Christened Priscilla and William and baptized Mary, children of Samuel and Dorothy Philpots."

The Commonwealth.

Eastham. A "Register" was appointed in 1653. In the period 1653—1661 there are 21 birth and 7 baptism entries, the latter evidently inserted by a later hand, probably by the Curate, Mr. Bolton, in 1661. There are two marriages, one of which is stated to have been performed by a Justice of the Peace.

Hanley William. A "Register" was appointed in 1653. In the period 1653—1661 there are 26 baptism entries, the date of birth also being given; from 1656—1661 the Register is signed by the Curate and Churchwardens.

Welsh Names. Many names which occur between 1584 and 1624 point to the residence in the parish of families of Welsh origin; for example, ap Evan, ap Howell, ap Owen, ap Powell, ap Reese, ap Robert.

The following names appear with a Mr., Mrs., or Esqre. :—

Eastham R. Acton, Barnaby, Bayliss, Bradshaw, Bury, Causer, Cornewall, Dansey, Fidoe, Fleet, Hare, Hopton, Green, Griffin, Jennings, Lea, Miller, Morres, Nanfan, Nicholetts, Nott, Osland, Perks, Randall, Russell, Shelton, Soley, Simpson, Walker, Walwin, Whitcombe, Winwood.

Hanley William R. Bowkett, Hammond, Hereford, Hyde, Latham, Nash, Newport, Wells.

Of the above the following FAMILIES were associated with the Parish over 100 years. The dates represent the earliest and latest years when they are mentioned in the Registers.

Cornewall, 1629—1705. Mention is made later, under the Manor of Eastham, of this family which owned the Court House, Eastham. The Lady Ann Cornewall, daughter of Sir Gilbert Lyttleton, lived here after the death of her husband, Sir Thomas Cornewall, 12th Baron of Burford, in 1636; she was buried at Eastham 1656, and a brass tablet recording her death, mentioned by Nash as in Eastham Church, is now at Hagley. A History of the "House of Cornewall" by the 1st (2nd creation) Earl of Liverpool and the Rev. C. Reade, was published in 1908.

Bury. 1582—1724. This family owned the Old Farm, Eastham. One branch appears to have become extinct in the male line on the death of John Bury of Kateshill, Bewdley, and the Bank, Shelsley.

Nicholetts, 1574—1703. This family owned the Hillwood, Childsgrove, Bastwood, and other property in Eastham. Nicholas, son of Nicholas, is mentioned under Hanley Child in the Lay Subsidy Roll of 1275, and John Nicholetts under Eastham in that of 1327. Richard Nicholetts, who died in 1620, resided at the Hillwood; his son, William, lived at Hopton Solers, Avenbury, which became the family residence, having acquired the estate by his marriage with Ann, daughter and heiress of George Dudgen. Colonel Gilbert Nicholetts, grandson of William, was A.D.C. to the Duke of Marlborough; Gilbert George, son of this Gilbert, acquired the Brontrees Hall Estate, Bishop's Frome, by his marriage with Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of Richard Stephens. The Hillwood Estate was sold at the beginning of the 19th century. The present representative of the family is Edward Cornewall Nicholetts, of Bitton, co. Gloucester. Some account of this family is given in Robinson's "Manors of Herefordshire," and in the Genealogist I., 233.

Shelton, 1689—1772. This family purchased the Lower House Estate, formerly called Callow Hill, about 1730, and sold it in 1813. The family is now represented by Captain Charles Shelton, R.M.L.I.

Whitcombe, 1729—1862. Three Whitcombes were Rectors of the Parish, 1740—1780, and three Whitcombes occupied Eastham Court Farm about 1750—1852, which the family purchased early in the 19th century, and later sold to Edward Vincent Wheeler of Kyrewood. William Whitcombe, Curate 1729 and Rector 1740, built the present Rectory House in 1735; he was son of William Whitcombe of the Morrey, Adderley, Shropshire; his nephew, Edmund Whitcombe of Orleton Court, was High Sheriff of Worcestershire in 1777. One branch of the family is now represented by Robert Henry Whitcombe of Bewdley.

Whitehead, 1808—1915. Christopher Whitehead, Rector 1790, was son of Edward Whitehead, Vicar of Bolton. The family purchased the Grange Estate, formerly known as the Spout, and Bastwood, at the end of the 18th century. H. J. B. Whitehead, of Eastham Grange, late Lieutenant 7th Hussars, represents one branch of the family.

Newport, 1600—1838. Hanley Court is the residence of this family. The estate includes Hanley William and farms in Eastham, Hanley Child, and Orleton. Reference is made to the family under the Manor of Hanley William. Some account of the Newports is given by G. W. Marshall, Genealogist I., 202.

Soley, 1571—1718. This family resided at Orleton. Their pedigree is given in the Visitation of Worcestershire, 1682—3, and in the Reliquary xviii, 207. In Eastham Church is a tablet to the memory of Edward Soley, died 1690, surmounted by his arms :—Vert, a chevron per pale or and gules between three sole fishes naiant argent.

Spilsbury, 1613—1899. This family purchased Cheveridge Farm, Hanley Child, about 1650, which is now owned by Thomas Spilsbury.

Winwood, 1571—1791. This family resided at Hanley Child.

The following families who were residing in the Parish 100 years ago, are still represented here :—Corke, Cox, Element, Gregg, Hooper, Jones, Mantle, Meredith, Moore, Morris, Paggett, Porter, Powell, Rudd, Stinton, Tessell, Wainwright, Weaver.

THE CHURCHES.

Eastham. The Church of St. Peter and St. Paul, built of travertine, is Norman with later insertions. It consists of a chancel, 40 feet by 15 feet, a nave 35 feet by 21 feet, and a square brick tower. There is accommodation for 120 persons. The chancel appears to have been lengthened by 19 feet in the 15th century ; it contains a low side window ; there was no east window until a small rose window was inserted in 1864 ; the stone stairway which led to the Rood loft, remains in the north-east angle. The old Norman Chancel arch of which the bases still remain showing a width of 7½ feet, was pulled down early in the 19th century ; a new one, 10½ feet wide, was erected in 1890. The chancel was restored in 1864 by the Rector, Rev. H. Browne, who with Mrs. George Browne restored the nave in 1890. On the south side of the nave is a round-headed Norman doorway with intersecting arcades above, which is figured by Nash, History of Worcestershire I., 598a. The windows vary in date and size. There are four ancient carved stones representing the Lamb and Cross, a two-headed Lioness, a Lion, and a Centaur, perhaps copied from a " Bestiary " and erected for ornamentation. The font is plain Norman with a large bowl. There is a painting on board of the Crucifixion above the chancel arch ; it is mentioned in a Terrier of 1802. The old tower surmounted by a shingled spire was pulled down in 1830, and a brick tower built. The Royal Arms, dated 1779, hang in the belfry. There are four bells, dated 1655, by John Martin, 1663 perhaps by John Martin, 1699 and 1754 by Abraham Rudhall. The Church Porch and Lych Gate mentioned in the Church Accounts of 1821 have disappeared.

In the Churchyard is a cross erected by the Rev. H. Browne in 1857, upon an old stone base whereon a sun-dial had stood. The Church plate consists of a silver paten and cup, hallmarked 1739, and a pewter flagon.

There are three Parish Books containing miscellaneous items dating from 1619—1915.

Hanley William. The Church of All Saints, built of freestone and travertine, is Norman with later insertions. It consists of a chancel, 15½ by 12½ feet, and a nave, 45½ by 16 feet. There is accommodation for 80 persons. Over the west end of the nave is a wooden bell tower surmounted by a shingled spire; it contains three bells, probably 15th century, with John Barber's Cross and lettering. On the south side of the bell-tower is a sun-dial. The windows vary in date and size. The chancel contains tablets to the memory of members of the Newport family, upon which are represented their arms, Argent, a fesse between three crescents sable—Crest, A fleur-de-lis or—. The Church was restored in 1869; the old porch was taken down perhaps in that year; the new porch was erected in 1904 by H. A. Wakeman-Newport, Esq. The pulpit is carved out of the stump of an oak tree which grew in Eastham.

The Church plate consists of Sheffield plate paten, a silver paten presented by Mrs. Wakeman-Newport, and a silver cup perhaps purchased in 1840.

The Parish Book commences in 1824.

Hanley Child. The Chapel of St. Michael and All Angels, a plain building of freestone, was built in 1804. It measures 61 by 14½ feet, and contains accommodation for 80 persons. The altar rails came from Eastham Church. Briefs for re-building the Chapel were issued in 1797 and 1801. Of the old Chapel which stood in the same place, Nash, in 1780, writes: "Here formerly stood a poor Chapel."

The plate consists of a pewter paten and silver cup.

The Parish Books date from 1864.

Orleton. The Chapel of St. John the Baptist, a plain brick building with a tower, was built and licensed in 1817. It measures 40 by 16 feet, and contains accommodation for 60 persons. The cost of the building was £456; a brief issued in 1778 raised £96, interest on this amount accumulated to £121, a rate at 9s. 9d. in the £1 raised £165, donations £32, and a "Charity Sermon" £18. The old Chapel stood amongst the farm buildings of the Court House, and Nash, in 1780, writes: "here is also a poor Chapel without arms or monuments."

The Church plate consists of a white metal paten and cup.

The Chapelwardens' Books date from 1836.

The Advowson of Eastham followed the descent of the Manor until 1709, when it was sold by Sir Thomas Cornewall, 15th Baron of Burford, to Dr. Gerald Thurston. It has passed through various hands, and is now held by Rev. E. E. Lea. In 1830 it was sold for £13,500.

The Advowson of Hanley William was held by Sir Richard Cornewall, 9th Baron of Burford, in 1560, when Hanley William was united with Eastham. In 1910 it was conveyed by the Rev. E. E. Lea to the Bishops of Hereford.

THE MANOR OF EASTHAM.

Heming, in the Chronicles of Worcester Church, relates that Eastham, in the time of King Ethelred, was taken from the Church of Worcester by King Hakon and the Danes.

The Tenantry-in-Chief. In Domesday Survey, 1086, the Manor of Eastham, including that of Bastwood, was held in chief by Ralph de Todeni. In 1240, it was held of the Barony of Ralph III. de Todeni by the service of one knight's fee. Perhaps it passed on the death of Robert de Todeni in 1310 to his sister and heiress, Alice, who married Guy de Beauchamp, 2nd Earl of Warwick, for in 1401 it was held by Thomas de Beauchamp, 4th Earl of Warwick, by the service of one fee. In 1447, the Manor was held of Anne, daughter and heiress of Henry de Beauchamp, Duke of Warwick, as of the Barony of Elmley, by the service of the twentieth part of one fee. No further mention of the fee has been found. It may eventually have passed to Anne, daughter and co-heiress of Richard Neville, wife of Richard, Duke of Gloucester, afterwards King Richard III., and on his death at Bosworth in 1485, passed with her other Warwick possessions to King Henry VII., and merged in the Crown.

The Under-Tenants or Lords of The Manor.

In 1235, the Manor was held by Baldwin de Rumeli, and in 1293 by William de Sodington; the latter died in 1302, and the Manor passed to Richard le Porter, son of his sister and co-heiress Martha de Sodington, wife of Reginald le Porter of Pershore. About 1370 it passed from the le-Porters to Sir William Wasteneys, who married Alice, daughter of Sir Walter Huwet; their only child, Joan de Wasteneys, married Sir John Cornewall of Kinlet, who died in 1415; the elder daughter and co-heiress by his marriage, Elizabeth Cornewall, married Sir William Lichfield, who died in 1446, when Kinlet passed to the Blounts and Eastham to Margaret, only child of Roger Corbet of Moreton Corbet, husband of Elizabeth, only surviving child of Sir William Lichfield; Roger Corbet had died in 1430. Margaret Corbet was born about 1425, and died in 1487; she married Sir Humphrey Stafford of Halmonds Frome, who was attainted and executed in 1485. Their only child, William Stafford, died before 1485, leaving by his wife, Elizabeth Wrottesley, an only child Margaret; this Margares Stafford married Sir George Veer, and was mother of John Veer, 14th Earl of Oxford. On the attainder of Sir H. Stafford, Eastham was forfeited; in 1488 Margaret Veer, granddaughter and heiress of Margaret Stafford nee Corbet, and her husband, Sir George Veer, wishing to recover Eastham on the ground that it had belonged to her grandmother and was therefore not liable to forfeiture on the attainder of her grandfather, made a petition to the King that he would allow them to plead notwithstanding that Margaret Stafford nee Corbet had in ignorance of the law failed to plead within one month of the attainder of her husband. The petition was granted. In 1490, a grant in survivorship was made by the Crown to Sir George Veer and Ralph Hackluyt, Esq., of the Manor of Eastham. The Manor passed into the possession of the Cornewalls of Burford, but when and how it passed has not been ascertained. Already in 1486 Sir Edmund Cornewall, 7th Baron of Burford, and, according to Nash, Lord of Eastham, had presented to the Rectory of Eastham. In 1490 the King presented by reason of the attainder of Sir H. Stafford. In 1524 Sir Thomas Cornewall, 8th Baron, presented. Sir Gilbert Cornwall, afterwards 13th Baron, was living at the Court House, Eastham, in 1629. Thomas Cornewall, 15th Baron, sold the Manor in 1710 to Salwey Winnington, Esq., of Stanford. Sir Francis S. Winnington is Lord of the Manor at the present day.

In 1619 the privilege of holding Court Leet in the Manor of Eastham was granted by the Crown to Blount of Sodington.

The Manor of Bastwood.

The Manor of Bestewde, afterwards Bastwood, appears to have been held as a separate manor before the Conquest. In Domesday Survey it was included in the Manor of Eastham. Robert Burnell held Bastwood of William de Sodington in 1293. It was held by Dionysia, widow of Hugh de Cokesey, in 1376, and by Sir Walter de Cokesey in 1399. Bastwood is described as a "Ville" in the Manor of Eastham in 1409. Gilbert George Stephens Nicholetts owned a farm named Bastwood in 1733, which subsequently was called the Spout. In 1797 Elizabeth, widow of Gilbert Nicholetts, sold this farm to the Rev. C. Whitehead. A new house was built in 1909 by E. H. Whitehead, Esq., and named Eastham Grange. The Manor of Bastwood appears to have covered that portion of Eastham which lies to the east of Pipers Brook.

The Manor of Hanley William.

The Tenants-in-Chief. In Domesday Survey Hanley was held in chief by Gilbert Fitz-Turold. In 1211 it was held of the Honour of Gloucester, and in 1240 of Richard de Clare, 2nd Earl of Gloucester, by the service of two-thirds of a Knight's fee, William de la Mare being mesne tenant in the latter year.

The Under-Tenants or Lords of The Manor.

In 1240 Thomas de Hanley, one of the Jurors of the "Testa de Nevill," and described as one of the most anicent knights in the County, held this manor, to which he appears to have given the distinguishing name of Hanley Thomas. In the Lay Subsidy Roll of 1275 the manor is headed by William de Hanley, and named Hanley William. Isold, daughter of John de Hanley, married in 1356 Peter de Washbourne of Stanford. About the year 1500 Eleanor, daughter of John Hanley, married Richard Habington of Brockhampton, father of George of Suckley and of John of Hindlip, and grandfather of Thomas the Historian. In 1546 Thomas Hanley conveyed the Manor of Hanley William, alias Downton, to George Habington, who demised the same for life to the said Thomas Hanley, and conveyed the reversion to Edward Newport. In 1618, Joan Bennett, only daughter and heiress of Joan, who was daughter and heiress of the said Thomas Hanley, made an unsuccessful claim for the manor. The said Edward Newport was descended from the Newports of Brent Pelham, Herts., and was related to the Newports of Droitwich. Another Edward Newport who in his will deals with his lands and salt-works at Droitwich, married Mary, daughter of Thomas Hereford of the Moore, Lindridge, and dying without issue in 1619, left the Manor of Hanley William to his nephew, John Newport of Welton, Northants. This John (1) died at Hanley in 1625, leaving a son, John (2) by his wife Anne, daughter of John Newton, who married secondly John Latham. John Newport (2) married Elizabeth, daughter of John Hammond of Hall of Hammond, Kinlet, and died in 1693; their son, John (3) married Ann, daughter of Arthur Charlett, of Fladbury, and died in 1705, leaving a son, John (4), who married Cecilia, probably daughter of the Rev. Mr. Oldys of Tinswick and widow of Walter Savage of Broadway Court. John (4) died in 1760, leaving two daughters; the younger, Cecilia, married Thomas Bury of Abberley and died without issue in 1799; the elder and heiress, Elizabeth, married in 1760, James Wakeman, who assumed the additional name Newport; she died in 1764, leaving an only son James Wakeman-Newport, born the same year. James Wakeman-Newport, senior, died in 1811, aged 91; his son James Wakeman-Newport assumed the additional name of Charlett on succeeding in 1821 to the Charlett property of his cousin Richard Bourne Charlett, of Elmley Castle; for forty-four years he was Colonel of the Worcestershire Militia, and died in 1838, leaving the manor to his half-brother, the Rev. Thomas Henry Newport, of Claines, who was born in 1777. The Rev. T. H. Newport died 10th June, 1855, and by his will the manor passed first to his cousin, the Rev. Edward Ward Wakeman, died 8th Sept., 1855, then to Henry Allan Wakeman, second son of the Rev. Edward Ward Wakeman and grandson of Sir Henry Wakeman of Perdiswell. Henry Allan Wakeman-Newport, Esq., who, in accordance with the said will assumed the additional name of Newport, was born in 1841, and is now Lord of the Manor; he married Louise, only child of William Essington Essington, Esq., of Ribbesford.

Perhaps there was another manor in Hanley William, for in 1279 Sir Hugh Burnell received from William Pickerell, clerk, a grant of his manor in Hanley William. In 1294, Philip Burnell was found to have held his tenement there in chief of Robert de Plecy, by the service of being with the same Robert in the Welsh War, and remaining there at the cost of the said Robert with unbanded horse, iron bacinet, and hauberk, and he owed suit at the Court of Worcester and the Hundred of Dodingtre. In 1315, Edward Baron Burnell held his tenement by a somewhat different service; Edward's sister and heiress, Maud, married first John, second Baron Lovell, and secondly John de Handlo; the manor at Hanley William passed to a posthumous son by her first husband. John, third Baron Lovell, who was holding the same at his death in 1348.

The Manor of Hanley Child.

In Domesday Survey, Gilbert Fitz Turold held in chief the two Hanleys, which are not distinguished. Hanley Child perhaps took its name from the family of le Child; in 1315 a Richard le Child was undertenant of the Hillwood in Eastham.

In 1294 Philip Burnell held a tenement in Hanley Child in socage of Robert de Plecy, and in 1315 Edward Burnell held the same tenement of Edward de Plecy, Richard le Shep being undertenant for life.

John de Beauchamp of Holt was interested in the Manor in 1275. John de Beauchamp, 2nd Baron of Kidderminster, died in 1420, holding the Manor; his daughter and heiress Margaret, married as her second husband, John Wysham, having by him three daughters, of whom Alice, wife of John Guise, and Joan, wife of John Croft, left issue; the said Margaret Beauchamp married John Pauncefort and Sir Walter Scull as her first and third husbands.

The Manor was held in 1564 by Thomas Hackluyt of Eaton Grange, Leominster, who married Fortune, daughter of Sir Robert Acton, of Ribbesford, and was conveyed by him in 1578 to Sir Edmund Pytts of Kyre. The Manor eventually passed to Jonathan Pytts of Kyre, who died without issue in 1807; he was the grandson of Samuel Pytts, whose daughter Catherine, in 1721, married William Lacon Child of Kinlet; in 1832, on the death of Annabella, widow of Jonathan Pytts, the Manor reverted to William Lacon Child of Kinlet, grandson of the above William Lacon Child and Catherine. On the death of William Lacon Child in 1880, the Manor passed to his fourth son, the Rev. Edward George Baldwyn-Childe, who died in 1898; his widow, Frances Christina, daughter of Sir Baldwin Leighton of Loton, is now Lady of the Manor.

In 1605, Charles Fox of Greete, conveyed a Manor at Hanley Child to Sir Edward Pytts; perhaps the manor had been divided between the heiresses of John and Margaret Wysham.

The Manor of Orleton.

In Domesday Survey the Manor was held in chief by Gilbert Fitz Turold. In 1240, Richard de Karsey (Cassy) held half a fee here belonging to the Honour of Richard's Castle, of William de Stutteville, husband of Margaret de Say; William de Washbourne, William and Roger, and Walter Clifford were mesne tenants.

On the death of Robert de Clifford in 1315 his fee in Orleton, held by John de Washbourne, was assigned to his widow Matilda, daughter of Thomas Clare.

On the death of Hugh de Cokesey in 1356 it was found that the Manor had been held jointly by him and his wife Dionysia, daughter of William le Boteler of Wem; in 1399 it was held by Sir Walter Cokesey. The aforenamed John Washbourne was of Stanford and Little Washbourne. About 1400 Isolde, daughter of John Washbourne, took Stanford to her husband, John Salwey of Kank, Staffs. Stanford eventually passed about 1670 to Sir Francis Winnington, who had married Elizabeth, daughter and co-heir of Edward Salwey. Sir Thomas Coningsby was interested in the Manor in 1607 and in 1634 Fitzwilliam Coningsby held the Manor as of the manor of Stanford by the rent of one sparrow hawk and knight service. In 1671 Humphry Coningsby and Ferdinando Gorges of Eye, Herefs., conveyed their interest in the Manor to Sir Francis Winnington, knt. The present Lord of the Manor is Sir Francis Salwey Winnington, 5th Bart., who married Jane, eldest daughter of Lord Alfred Spencer-Churchill.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Houses.

Most of the old houses are half-timbered, bricknoggin having generally replaced plaster; a few are built of local freestone; recently built houses are of brick.

Eastham Court, Puddleford, and the Old Farm built in the 17th century, present features of interest, and have suffered little from restoration. The Hillwood and the Court House, Hanley Child, have been much altered. Hanley (William) Court, the residence of H. A. Wakeman-Newport, Esq., is a fine brick house mainly built in the 18th century; Orleton Court is also a brick built house of the 18th century. Orleton House, the residence of Major D. Peat, was built in 1855, and Eastham Grange, the residence of H. J. B. Whitehead, Esq., in 1909.

Eastham Park Farm marks the position of the old Park. A license was granted in 1366 to Sir Walter Huet and others to enlarge their Park at Eastham by imparking 300 acres of land, meadow, and wood in Eastham and Rochford. It is at present unknown when it was disparked.

Earthworks. A circular-moated mound in Castle Tump meadow near Eastham Bridge.

Two rectangular-moated enclosures, one near Childsgrove, the other near the Park Farm.

A Cross on Bonfire Hill pointing N.E.S.W. The upright and cross-piece are of the same dimensions, 12 yards by 3 yards. The perimeter was excavated about 18 inches deep by 3 feet wide, and the soil laid upon the face of the cross, raising it above the level of the adjoining ground.

Hollow ways marking old roads; from Eastham to Highwood; from March End to the old Spout Mill.

Rectangular mounds 15 feet wide, varying in length, being the sites of old houses.

PLACE NAMES.

Eastham. Brincell, Bucket House, Catershutt, Caterbach, Comball, Coldenhall, Cuckoo Pen, Crundall, Hollow Ridding, Hanbury Hill, Long Friday, Lellow Coppice, March End, Ocker Hill, Outsuch, Owney, Ox hair truss, Robinsitch, Pompey Dingle, Quince Hill, The Quob, Ridgway, Robins Hood Close, Scotland Field, Stoke House, Stony Hair, Swetnock, The Vinney.

Orleton. Eyebridge, Hop Slade, Loxton, Medway, Majesty Orchard, Pendoc. Pike Furlong, Pitchcroft, The Rise Hopyard, Wall Hill.

Town of Oyer. At the beginning of the 17th century Eastham was a Town of Oyer, and included the Hanleys, Orleton, the Kyres, and Stanford; it was a kind of petty sessional division with a Chief Constable, and dealt with the collection of rates, the provision of trained soldiers and armour, the supervision of ale houses, the keeping of the peace.

Enclosure. The Highwood Common, Eastham, consisting of 13 acres was enclosed in 1815, and the Broad Heath of 85 acres, lying in the Hanleys in 1871.

Dr. Gilbert Slater suggests that north-west Worcestershire was enclosed by 1540. A glebe terrier dated 1607 indicates that inclosure in Hanley Child was recent, for the glebe there consisting of 26 acres comprised 17 separate parcels of land.

A Rectory terrier of 1802 includes a modus of a buck and doe in respect of a portion of the Fulham's Estate, which had formerly been a part of Kyre Park, and a right of fishery in the River Teme.

The Palmer's Guild at Ludlow held three small Eastham farms; at the Dissolution they were granted for educational purposes to the Ludlow Corporation, who sold them in 1801.

A Register booke of all weddinges, Christenings, and burialles within the parish of Eastham with the Chapples, viz. Orlton, Hanley William and Hanley Child from the xiii yeare of the Queenes majesties raigne.

.....		Thomas Lewis of O.	bur.

An ingenious honest man thought to be destroyed by Egerton Boswell of Cleobury a silley ignorant pretending Quack (Mr. Lewis not being well) gave him so large a dose of opium, yt he never wakened; but see ye justice of Providence. Boswell to vindicate his own reputation (being told he had killed so good a man and thereby ruined his family leaving behind him a wife and many children much in debt) said he cd safely take ye same quantity which he did which had such an effect upon him yt he immediately lost ye use of one side, lay lingering and senseless 3 or 4 days and then dyed unpittyed.

,,	Oct. 27.	Abigail Grisston, wid.	bur.
,,	Oct. 29.	Elizabeth Lewis, sister to ye above Thomas Lewis, sp.	bur.

She was ever esteemed a very virtuous, modest woman tho thro some disorder in her head cut her own throat almost from ear to ear about 3 years before she died, her wind pipe was 3 parts cutt through, he throat puding more yn halfe way her whole breath and voice came through ye wound. She was yn ye most fearfull and gostly object I ever saw yett please God (by ye assistance of Dr. Seager, of Tenbury) she soon got well of yt terrible wound, perfectly recovered her senses and became a sincere penitent (I do believe) before she dyed.
